

People send messages all the time and in many different ways.

Have your class experience communication in novel and creative ways during a visit to the Children’s Museum of Winston-Salem. Check out the Focused Lessons which correlate to NC Early Learning Standards and NCSCOS.

Lesson Level	Lesson Summary	Objectives
Pre-K and K	“Secret Message” Curiosity takes over as children are off following clues on an enticing adventure. With Eric Carle’s The Secret Birthday Message children will use language to figure out a mysterious code.	NC Foundations Early Learning Standards PreK Foundations for Reading; Creative Expression	NCSCOS Kindergarten English/Language Arts: Goal 1.04 and Goal 2.05
Gr 1	“Body Talk” Do you know what I mean? Using Body Talk by Nigel Nelson students explore the messages that they send nonverbally. Students discover the marvelous world of communicating without even opening their mouths.	NCSCOS English/Language Arts: Goal 2.04
Gr 2 and Gr 3	“Always a Way to Communicate” Communication is telling and listening and in this lesson students learn there is always a way to communicate. The lesson features the story Communication by Aliki.	NCSCOS Grade 2 English/Language Arts: Goal 3.01 Social Studies: Goal 8.01	NCSCOS Grade 3 English/Language Arts: Goal 4.10 Social Studies: Goal 6.03